

COUNCILMAN HAS SAY ABOUT VETO

Davison Talked Right Out in Meeting When Mayor's Veto to Tax Levy is Announced.

ADJOURNMENT CLOSED TILT

Assessment Rolls For Three of The Street Improvement Contracts Are Approved.

The city council adjourned rather suddenly and unexpectedly last night. The abrupt close of the session came during a speech of Councilman Davison in which he criticised Mayor Swope for his veto of the tax levy ordinance. He did not mince his words and alleged that the mayor had withheld his veto until it was too late for the council to take further action. The mayor interrupted the councilman from the Second ward and replied that he had delayed action on purpose. Davison waxed warm in his talk and shouted "It is a scheme. It is you, I am talking to Mr. Mayor, it is you."

Mr. Swope emphatically declared that there was no scheme about it. Davison started to continue his speech but the curtain dropped upon the scene when Sherman Day moved that the council adjourn. The motion was put by Mayor Swope and was carried. A few words were passed between the mayor and the councilman as the members filed from the room, but the argument was never completed, and the incident was closed.

The council transacted considerable business, much of which concerned the street improvements. The primary assessment rolls of Ewing, between Seventh and Ninth streets, North Chestnut and South Walnut streets were approved and the city clerk was ordered to file them with the city treasurer for collection. The prima facie assessment roll for Ewing between Cincinnati avenue and Seventh street was filed.

The total improvements of all the street amounts to $40,343.55, according to the figures on file in the clerk's office. Of this amount the city's part is $10,257.11 and the property owners will pay $30,086.44.

The total cost of North Ewing street, between Seventh and Ninth was $4,271.76. Of this the property owners will pay $3,596.47 and the city $675.29. The property owners on North Chestnut street will pay $5,956.75 and the city $1,504.12, making a total of $7,460.87.

The South Walnut street improvement cost more than any of the others, the assessment roll showing that the total expense was $15,685.19. The property owners pay $11,200.21 and the city $4,484.98.

Last night was the time for hearing remonstrances on the three streets, but no objections were filed on any of the streets but South Walnut. W. R. Day submitted a remonstrance for Love Collins in which there was an alleged error of several dollars. The city engineer stated that he had investigated the measurements, and would arrange it. A. V. Lawell, representing the Crabb heirs,

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

Brownstown Man Thrown From Load of Hay and Injured.

Albert Endebeck, of Brownstown, was injured in a runaway accident at that place Thursday afternoon. He was delivering a load of hay and cowpeas and suffered a fainting spell. The horses took fright and ran away and Endebeck was thrown from the top of the load of hay. He struck the ground on his head and shoulders and it was first believed that he was seriously injured.

The injured man was removed to his home, but a medical examination showed that he was not as seriously hurt as first believed. He received several bruises and was badly hurt as first believed. He received several bruises and was badly shaken up by the fall.

HITCHRACKS PROHIBITED

Council Orders Them Removed From Improved Streets.

Hitchracks on the improved streets must go. This was the order given to the chief of police by the council at the regular meeting Thursday night. Some complaints had been made about horses hitched along the paved streets, and it was also stated that the animals were wearing holes in the streets where they stood.

It was stated that there is a state law by which hitchracks could be declared an obstruction and this was the law under which the order was issued. Chief of Police Abell informed a number of persons today of the new order. Ten days are given in which to comply with the new ruling.

NOTICES ISSUED.

City Treasurer Sends Out Statements to Property Owners.

City Treasurer C. W. Burkart today mailed out statements to all property owners who have been assessed for the street improvements. Assessments rolls for three of the contracts have been placed in the hands of the treasurer for collection, and they contain the names of 132 property owners.

Property owners are given the privilege of paying for the improvements in cash or may take advantage of the Barrett law. Thirty days are given to settle the accounts or to give notice that the Barrett law will be adopted. If provisions are not made within that time the claim is regarded as delinquent and the city may order the property sold to collect for the improvement. The treasurer will accept payments at any time during the regular office hours. Several of the property owners have already paid the assessments made against them.

Louis Richard of Columbus, was here a short time this morning, returning home from Cincinnati.

Bazaar and Market.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will give a Bazaar and Market the first week in December at the home of Mrs. Charles Graessle, North Poplar street.

HOADLEY'S

CAR LOAD OF LIVE STOCK TO BE USED

Practical Lectures and Demonstrations Will Be Given at The Farmers' Short Course.

INFORMATION IS VALUABLE

Farmers of This County Realize The Benefit of Such a Meeting—Dates Announced Later.

The farmers of Jackson county are fortunate in securing one of the County Farmers' Short Courses offered by the Agricultural Extension Department this season. "It is possible" says Prof. Christie, head of the Extension Department, "to hold but twenty or so of these three day courses in Indiana this season. Only those places earnestly desiring the school and able and willing to handle a proposition of this character are being considered."

The farmers of Jackson county realize that agricultural conditions have changed, farmers' responsibilities are greater, and that to build up the fertility more numerous and difficult, and that to build up the fertility of our soils and grow better crops and more live stock, the latest and most approved methods must be adopted. The sooner farmers in all parts of Indiana realize these fundamental things the better it will be for Indiana agriculture.

Purdue School of Agriculture and Experiment Station constitute the headquarters of the agricultural industry in this state. Here are carried on investigational work and study along agricultural lines, and here has been accumulated a large amount of information of the greatest practical value to the farmer.

It is some of this information that will be offered in the Farmers' Short Courses. This work can be counted on as a step in advance of anything else offered by the Agricultural Extension Department. Seven of the best lecturers from the staff of Purdue University, using a carload of choice live stock and other teaching material will present the following lines of work.

I. Corn. Lectures and Judging. Lectures, together with actual judging of corn, will be given during the course. Each person will be supplied with a sample of corn and a chance will be given to score it according to the rules of the score card. Lectures on Seed Selection, Preparation of the Seed Bed, Rotation of Crops, Fertilization of the Soil, etc., for Corn, will be given.

II. Live Stock. Lectures and Practical Scoring: For this work, Purdue University will send a carload of live stock. The members of the course will be given a chance to score the different classes of hogs, cattle and horses. Lectures on Feeding and Breeding and Management will supplement the judging work.

III. Horticulture: This course will cover a study of Diseases of Fruit, Methods of spraying, Care and Management of the Orchard, Judging of fruit, etc.

IV. Dairying: Instruction in this line will consist of lectures and demonstrations in the care and handling of milk, selection, feeding and care of the dairy cow, testing of milk and cream, farm butter making and butter scoring.

V. Poultry: This course will form an important part of the week's work. Special attention will be given to the judging of poultry, care, feeding and management of the laying hen, the diseases of poultry and the production of eggs for the market.

VI. Domestic Science: The course in domestic science will be under the direction of one of the Agricultural Extension Department experts. Practical demonstrations in the methods of cooking, with lectures on many household problems, will be given. The program will be so arranged that women will be allowed to have instruction in poultry, dairying and horticulture, along with the domestic science work. No woman can afford to miss this course.

Miscellaneous Work. In addition to the above lines of work, special lectures on Small Seed Improvement, Eradication of Weeds, Soil Improvement, Agricultural Education, etc., will be given.

The course is one of the most comprehensive that has ever been attempted by Purdue University. It should mean much to the people who receive the instruction.

Watch for further information as to the Jackson County Farmers' Short Course. Date, program, etc., will be published soon.

The dates of the short course have not been decided upon, but the meeting will probably be held here during November or the first of December.

LEAVES FOR LOUISVILLE

Mrs. Florence McClelland Severs Connection With Hospital.

Mrs. Florence McClelland, R. N., severed her connection with the Sehneck Memorial Hospital Thursday evening and left for Louisville. Mrs. McClelland, as Superintendent, has been with the institution since its beginning, and has been most successful and it is regretted that she could not be persuaded to remain.

Mrs. McClelland handed her resignation to the Board early in August, as effective on Oct. 1st, thus giving ample time to select a new Superintendent. On account of the failure of the board to select a successor by that time she was prevailed upon to remain, but was compelled to leave yesterday to fill an appointment she had already made. It is not known whether the board has selected a new Superintendent or not and at this time the Hospital is left in charge of the pupil nurses.

Funeral Notice.

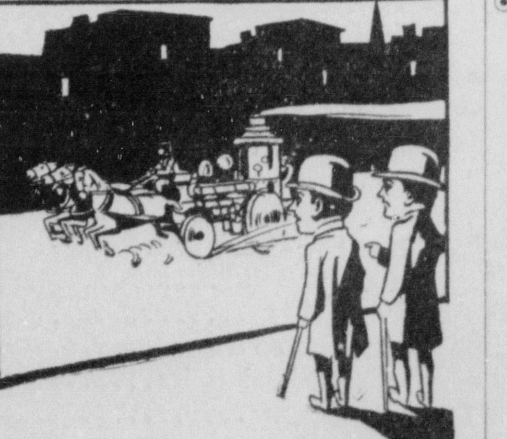

The funeral of Nellie A. Crane will be held at the family residence, 125 Bruce street, at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Owing to the fact that satisfactory funeral services cannot be arranged for with the pastor of the church of which she has always been a faithful member no religious services will be held. Interment at Riverview cemetery.

Military Lecture.

Chaplain Livingston, of the 23rd Regiment, will lecture at the M. E. church Wednesday night, Oct. 17 on the army life. He will be aided by a bugler and army quartette. o17d Advertisement.

HILLES TESTIFIED BEFORE COMMITTEE

Introduced Evidence to Support Assertion Regarding Roosevelt's Campaign Fund.

OPEN LETTER TO G. W. PERKINS

Declared Roosevelt Forces Spent $300,000 in Ohio Alone Before Chicago Convention.

Washington, October 11.—The challenge of former President Theodore Roosevelt to Charles D. Hilles, national chairman of the Republican party, to produce proof that millions of dollars had been spent in the pre-convention campaign of the third term and that the harvester trust, through George W. Perkins, was the chief contributor, was met by Mr. Hilles before the senate investigating committee yesterday.

Hilles did not retract one iota from his charges. He came back at Roosevelt and Perkins with a statement in the form of an open letter to Perkins, in which he alleges no less than $2,000,000 was used in the Roosevelt pre-convention campaign, and he also dealt with Perkins' relations to the harvester trust, and the reason why Perkins was so determined to return the third term to the White House.

Five or six of the Roosevelt witnesses, Hilles declared, already on the stand have admitted expenditures of $667,000 or about two-thirds of a million. This sum represented expenditures in only a few states, Hilles said.

He declared the $667,000 did not include expenditures in West Virginia, Maryland, Vermont, Maine, Tennessee, Connecticut, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Michigan, North Dakota, California, Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, enormous sums spent in trumping up contests in the south or all of the money spent in Ohio and Massachusetts.

Hilles asserted in Ohio alone the Roosevelt forces before the Chicago convention spent not less than $300,000. State-wide advertising was done there, he declared, that cost $50,000. In Massachusetts advertising, that when calculated, was worth $100,000 was done for the former President.

Mr. Hilles referred to the fact William Flinn was quoted by Timothy L. Woodruff as saying last spring he already had spent $250,000 in Pennsylvania and was willing to spend more.

Missionary Convention.

The District meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church will be held at Franklin Oct. 14 and 15th beginning at 1:30 Monday afternoon. New York registered nine hits and made error.

STATE CONVENTION

Baptists Holding Annual Meeting at Linton.

A number of local Baptists are attending the annual state convention at Linton. The last session was held this morning. The attendance was large.

The Rev. A. B. Strickland of Marion conducted the devotional exercises at the state Baptist convention Thursday morning. Mrs. Ruby Maplesden gave an interesting address on Japanese and Chinese women on the Pacific coast, telling of the wonderful work done there.

The address given by the Rev. S. L. Roberts of Franklin, on the condition of the rural churches in Indiana, was of especial interest. He said that, while the farmers were growing richer and their farm lands increasing in value, the rural churches were declining. The Baptists were better off than many denominations. In the last ten years forty-two Baptist churches had been closed in the rural districts of the state. What the country churches need is more of Christ and less of doctrine; fewer sheep shepherds, but more shepherds.

"The rural churches need leaders, not bosses," he said, "and they should also be brought to see that they need the Church of Christ in community. Teach them the love of Christ and the value of leading a Christian life and a better condition will prevail."

One of the addresses of the morning was given by E. S. Shumaker of the Anti-Saloon League. He stated the Anti-Saloon League was a Federation of the religious and moral forces of the state and nation. More than 600,000 people are members of the organization, and every year 24,000,000 pamphlets are distributed in the state of Indiana telling about the evils of the drink traffic. The league is anxious for the enactment of the county unit law. The league has a corps of lawyers going about fighting the "blind tigers" and the law breakers, who are against the temperance cause. The work of the Anti-Saloon League will eventually lead to prohibition, he declared.

said there was an error in their assessment, as one lot had been charged with fifty-one feet when it should have been fifty feet. Albert Kasting represented Mrs. J. H. Droege and Mrs. Carrie Fodermark who own property facing on Brown street, at the intersection of Walnut. There was some discussion regarding the assessment of these properties as the improvement was ordered only on Walnut.

It was stated that when the improvement was ordered the council agreed that the improvement should be made and the cost paid by the city because of the unusual set off in the street. After considerable discussion it was voted that the city should pay for the improvement of these two properties on Brown street, all the councilmen with the exception of Hodapp and Misch voting "aye."

The city engineer was instructed to repair a bridge over a ditch on Mill street between Third and Fourth streets.

Alex Sage was employed upon the motion of Hodapp to sweep Ewing street. He will begin work Monday morning.

The ordinance prohibiting the building of fire on the improvement streets was placed on second reading. Upon the motion of Misch the rules were suspended and the order was passed after third reading.

Chairman Davison of the board of public works reported that the council met Thursday to assess the benefits and damages caused by the proposed construction of an alley in Block "W." but had been unable to agree. He said it was decided to appoint a committee composed of two councilmen to investigate the matter and make a report to the council. Upon his motion it was decided to meet in special session next Thursday evening. Misch moved that Buse and Davison be appointed as the special committee. The motion was carried.

The ordinance prohibiting the draining of storm water into the sanitary sewers of the city was placed on third reading. Davison stated that he had introduced the ordinance upon request, but had never been in favor of it and could not see the need of such an ordinance. He moved that it be indefinitely postponed and his motion was carried.

Sherman Day moved that the street commissioner file a daily report showing the exact time his force of men worked and where they were employed. This method was used some time ago and was found of much value. The report will be filed with the claims of the street commissioner and will be used in checking up the accounts.

David Foist was employed to assist Ira McConnell with city hauling from November 1 to March 1. This was deemed necessary on account of the large amount of ashes during the winter months. It was also agreed that the ashes should be scattered upon the streets and alleys in the wards where they are found.

Bids for the construction of a sewer on Fourth street were opened. Joseph Burkart agreed to do the work for $799 and the bid of DeGolyer & Co. was for $765.30. Upon motion of Buse the bids were referred to the board of public works.

James M. Hamer was the only bidder for coal for the city building and was awarded the contract. His bid was $2.27 a ton.

The prima facie assessment roll for Ewing street between Seventh street and Cincinnati avenue was filed by the city engineer. There may be a few small changes in some of the amounts, but the figures as submitted last night are as follows.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood, and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. AT THE MAJESTIC
Next Play, "The Power Behind the Throne," Tuesday night.

"The Power Behind the Throne" made famous by Mildred Holland comes to the Majestic theatre. Matinee and night Tuesday, Oct. 15th. This sterling drama has always been presented at the higher scale of prices; now it comes within the reach of all theatre goers. The prices of admission for the matinees will be 10, 20 and 30 cents, and at night 10, 20, 30, and 50 cents.

The company presenting this play has been selected with the utmost care, and the preliminary rehearsals have been conducted by Mildred Holland. The Troy Times in its review of the performance on Sept. 13th said: The play was splendidly produced. This is the show in which Mildred Holland starred, and last night's production was under her personal supervision. She could have chosen no one better to succeed herself than Gertrude Fowler as Aria. Miss Fowler last night scored a big hit with the audience. She was particularly good in the last act with her death scene with Baron Ronald Von Hohenlohe, which part was taken by Claude E. Kimball. He improved as the play progressed. J. H. Lehnberg was his father and Florence Pendleton was Duchess Von Hohenlohe. Both did very well. P. Jefferson Rollow was good as the President's Secretary. Andrew Guise and Millie Butterfield made fine parents for Aria. Others who appeared included Jean Woodruff, David Marshall, Walter Allen, Leila Carlton, James B. Evans, J. Ryan and Edward F. Frazer.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES
They Are Closely Observing Public Health Conditions.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that the reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of applicants do not even suspect that they have the disease. He states that judging from his own experience and reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has probably been more successful in relieving and curing these diseases than any remedy known. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of cures.

We find that Swamp-Root is strictly an herbal compound and we would advise our readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes—fifty cents and one dollar.

However, if you wish first to test its wonderful merits, send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle, absolutely free. When writing be sure and mention the Daily Republican.

DEPENDENT UPON LAST BALL HIT

Third Game of Series Kept Fans Guessing.

REMARKABLY CLOSE CONTEST

With Fourth Game Being Played This Afternoon, Each Side Has One to Its Credit, the One Tie Game Demonstrating All the More Thoroughly the Even Terms on Which Titans of the Diamond Are Battling.

At Boston—
New York... 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 0—2 7 1
Boston... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1 7 0
Batteries—Marquard and Meyers; O'Brien, Bedient and Carrigan, Cady.

Boston, Oct. 11.—For the laurels of baseball again the Giants and Red Sox had it out tooth and nail, and this time the Giants won. The score by which they subdued the Red Sox was 2 to 1, and then they won by a squeak so narrow that everything depended upon the last ball hit.

The attendance at the game was 34,624; receipts, $63,142; national commission's share, $6,314.20; players' share, $34,096.68; each club's share, $11,365.56.

Somewhat different in complexion from the first two games was this latest contest. The rivals settled down to baseball which was of smoother texture and more natural in its pace. Yet the game lacked nothing in intensity. It was in keeping with its fellows in being crammed to the full with uncertainty. The Giants ran up a score of two and turned the Red Sox back baffled and scoreless for eight consecutive innings. In the last two innings, however, the attack of the Red Sox quickened a bit, and their aggressiveness resulted in preventing a whitewash. A muff by Merkle was the only fissure in the New York fielding, it coming in the ninth inning after the Red Sox had made their one run. It cost nothing, but it did create a perilous situation, and there was a furore of excitement in the stands until Devore with a superb running catch of a line drive so hard that it was almost invisible, brought the game to an end with two base runners bound lickety split for the home plate. This ninth was a roaring inning. Marquard was in dire straits toward the last, but all told the master of the Red Sox.

Devore's Comely Catch.
It was not all his fault that he was in trouble in the ninth, although he appeared to be losing his grip. The error by Merkle made things worse for him, but he was plucky even then, and for the greater part of the game cool and deliberate. The fast hop ball which has made Marquard famous and formidable was on show and greatly perplexed the Red Sox. In the closing innings the Ruben had to listen to a storm of yelling by the home rooters, but he remained impervious, yielding to the din only in the ninth, when he and the team were saved by Devore's comely catch.

The Giants, too, faced pitching which was new to them. They were strangers to O'Brien, just as the Red Sox knew naught of Marquard save by reputation and observation. The New Yorkers did not make any great indentations in O'Brien's pitching, but they did take more readily to his spit ball than the enemy did to Marquard's offerings.

The fielding was, barring Merkle's fall from grace, stainless and snappy and with a blend of the sensational. Herzog, Doyle and Murray exploited themselves with plays that were difficult and which thrilled. Speaker was the stellar fielder for Boston. His finished style made two hard catches look easy and he kept New York's score down by racing out with the ball and laying hands on it in a manner which was the poetry of motion and perfect judgment.

Gardner and Lewis made most of the trouble for the New Yorks with the stick, whereas Murray and Herzog, who have rendered valuable service in every game, were again New York's mainstays with the ash.

TRUTH TRIUMPHS

Seymour Citizens Testify For the Public Benefit.

A truthful statement of a Seymour citizen, given in his own words, should convince the most skeptical about the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, urinary disorders or any form of kidney ills, use a tested kidney medicine.

A Seymour citizen tells of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Could you demand more convincing proof of merit?

Mrs. W. Abbott, 23 W. Brown St., Seymour, Ind., says: "I do not know what I would have done without Doan's Kidney Pills. My back was lame and sore and often I could not get around. The secretions from my kidneys bothered me. I had read and heard so much about Doan's Kidney Pills that I finally gave them a trial, and the results of their use surprised me. Three boxes made me well. I still use Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally and recommend them just as highly as I did in 1910 when I gave them my first public testimonial. You may continue to use my former statement."

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

Sage and Sulphur Remedy For Dandruff, Faded and Gray Hair.

The old idea of using Sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers had dark, glossy hair at seventy-five, while our mothers are gray before they are fifty. Our grandmothers kept their hair soft and glossy with a "Sage Tea," which also restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it. This objection has been overcome by the Wyeth Chemical Company of New York, who has placed on the market a superior preparation of Sage, combined with Sulphur and other valuable remedies for dandruff, itching scalp, and thin, weak, falling hair.

The beauty of the hair depends more on its rich even shading than anything else. Don't have dry, harsh faded hair, when a simple harmless remedy will bring back the color in a few days; and don't be tormented with dandruff, itching scalp and loose, falling hairs. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will quickly correct these troubles, and give color, strength and beauty to your hair.

AWAY WITH CATARRH—A FILTHY DISEASE.

Cold in Head and Catarrh Relieved Instantly.

If you are subject to frequent colds, or if you have any of the distressing symptoms of catarrh, such as stuffed up feeling in the head, profuse discharge from the nose, sores in the nose, phlegm in the throat causing hawking and spitting, dull pain in the head or ringing in the ears, just anoint the nostrils or rub the throat or chest with a little Ely's Cream Balm, and see how quickly you will get relief.

In a few minutes you will feel your head clearing, and after using the balm for a day or so the nasty discharge will be checked, the pain, soreness and fever gone, and you will no longer be offensive to yourself and your friends by constantly hawking, spitting and blowing.

Shake off the grip of catarrh before it impairs your sense of taste, smell and hearing and poisons your whole system. In a short time you can be completely cured of this distressing disease by using Ely's Cream Balm. This healing, antiseptic balm does not fool you by short, deceptive relief, but completely overcomes the disease. It clears the nose, head and throat of all the rank poison, soothes, heals and strengthens the raw, sore membranes, making you proof against colds and catarrh.

One application will convince you, and a 50 cent bottle will generally cure the worst case of catarrh. It is guaranteed. Get it from your druggist today. Advertisement. 011

SOCIAL EVENTS.

CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY.

Mrs. Sarah McClellan quietly celebrated her eighty-fourth birthday anniversary today at her home on North Walnut street. A dinner was given in her honor and was attended by her children. Mrs. McClellan was born in Lexington and where she was married to J. D. McClellan. Shortly after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. McClellan moved to Seymour and she has resided here since that time. Mr. McClellan died about thirty years ago. Mrs. McClellan has a host of friends who extend their congratulations upon her birthday anniversary.

PRISCILLA CLUB.

Mrs. E. L. Hancock was hostess yesterday afternoon at her home on North Chestnut street to the members of the Priscilla Club and a few invited guests. During the afternoon a number of Riley's poems were reproduced on the Victrola. A course luncheon was served.

SURPRISED.

Mrs. Frank J. Voss was very pleasantly surprised Thursday evening at her home on West Fourth street by the members of the Thimble Club, in honor of her birthday anniversary. The guests enjoyed a delightful evening. Mrs. Voss was presented with a silver teaspoon.

BLACK-TIDD.

Benj. Black and Miss Minnie Tidd were married Thursday evening in the clerk's office at Brownstown by Rev. Edward F. Schneider of the Methodist church.

Mrs. John Gossett and her guest, Mrs. W. C. Noek of Hallwood, Va., went to Medora this morning to visit Mrs. Gossett's father.

Mrs. Clyde McGowan and daughter, Miss Arlean, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Estel Hancock today.

M. D. Hendricks of Franklin spent today the guest of Mr. and Mrs. David Baird.

S. L. Cherry of the Southeastern line, is ill.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS.

Mrs. Harry Bobb is quite sick at her home on West Fifth street.

William Noul, who has been working at the Sparta, left Thursday for New York and next week will sail for his home in Greece.

The public sale of the household of the late Alice K. Smith will be held from the Ewing street residence tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Street Commissioner Burrell and his force of men have done some grading on East Third street between Ewing street and Indianapolis avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Cordes Moore, from near Hope, and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Moore, of Decatur county, were here Thursday the guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Davis. Cordes Moore is past eighty years of age, but is active and looks to be many years younger. His brother is over seventy years of age and went to school to Dr. Davis. He has held several offices in Decatur county.

Yesterday was runaway day in Seymour. In the morning a horse driven by Sol Davis ran away and the buggy struck a telephone post near the New Lynn hotel. The animal was cut in several places by the shafts. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon the horse driven by Frank Smith to the delivery wagon of the United Express Company took fright while standing at the rear of the Gold Mine. The horse ran to Second street and started east and the wagon struck the express wagon of the American Express Company which was standing in front of the office. The U. S. wagon was overturned and the horse thrown to the ground, but was not injured.

Government Traces Course of McManigal's Travels.

HOTEL REGISTERS ON EXHIBIT

A Truckload of These, Representing Towns in All Parts of the Country, Wheeled Into Federal Court With a View to Showing McManigal's Presence in Those Towns at Time Work of Wreck Was Going On.

Indianapolis, Oct. 11.—In the dynamiting cases the government has made a good deal of progress through witnesses from many eastern and western cities, who identified telegrams passing between the alleged conspirators and through hotel registers, showing that the men sending the telegrams were in the cities from which they were sent. One feature of the sessions is the frequent identification of Orville E. McManigal as a man who had registered at hotels and always under assumed names.

In order to substantiate other telegrams to which telegraphers and clerks testified as having passed through their hands, photographs of John and James B. McNamara, both of whom are now in the California state prison, were shown the witnesses and the identification was thus made. Some of the witnesses had talked to the dynamiter, and at each of the hostilities he remained from one to four days. In the majority of these places explosions occurred during McManigal's visit and the purpose of the testimony was to corroborate the story that he is expected to tell when he takes the stand.

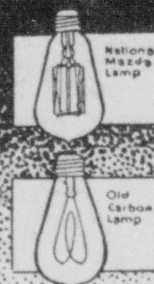

The identification of telegrams and hotel registers is expected to last a day or two, as a truckload of hotel registers was brought into the courtroom. These represent every city in which Hockin, McManigal, James B. and John J. McNamara are registered. Among the important telegrams identified was one McManigal said he had sent from Pittsburg under the signature of "Ping," usually the alias of Hockin. McManigal had said Hockin had told him when he got to Pittsburg after one of his eastern dynamiting trips, to send to L. A. Noel, business agent of the Iron workers in Detroit, a telegram notifying him that the work had been done. The telegram to Noel was for the information of Hockin, he said. A. W. Reinhart, telegraph manager in Pittsburg, identified it as having been found in his files, the original copy, filed March 31, 1909.

THEY MUST WORK

The Cass County Jail No Longer a Mere Winter Resort.

Logansport, Ind., Oct. 11.—The county commissioners passed a resolution that all prisoners confined in the Cass county jail must work either on the city streets or highways in the country. This action was brought about by "town bums" and tramps who every winter manage to be sentenced to the local jail, where they get three meals a day, a clean place to sleep and nothing to do. The order goes into effect immediately and twenty-one prisoners have been put to work cleaning out the waterworks race.

Sunday School Lesson

Lesson 11.—October 13.

CLEAN AND UNCLEAN. Mark 7 : 1-23.

GOLDEN TEXT.—For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.—Rom. 14:17

Taking up the incidents between the last lesson and this one we note that because they did not consider His wonderful works, such as the feeding of the thousands, they were amazed at His stilling the storm and walking on the sea. That was Israel's trouble all through, and it is ours; we do not consider, or if we do it is ourselves or our circumstances or people and not Him who should occupy all our thoughts (vs. 52; Heb. iii. 1; xii. 3). In chap. vi. 53-56, what a multitude of sick folks gather unto Him, see the streets in the villages filled with them, all hoping that He would pass near enough for them to touch the border of His garment; how beautiful to read that "as many as touched Him were made whole."

Then follows the great discourse on the bread of life, the bread which came down from Heaven, even Himself; and His reply to the question, "What shall we do that we might work the works of God?" In considering His reply remember that believing means receiving (John i. 12) or committing oneself unto Him (John vi. 24). I am continually helped by John vi. 57, "As the living Father hath sent Me, and I live by the Father, so he that eateth Me, even he shall live by Me." Also verse 63, "The words that I speak unto you, they are spirit and they are life." To many even among true believers, He and His words are still hidden manna of which they have not yet tasted the sweetness, or having no spiritual appetite they loathe the heavenly food. They have life, having Him, but not abundant life.

There were many in His day, as there were also in the days of the prophets and as there are in our own time, whose religion is wholly outward, simply a matter of externals, of outward forms and ceremonies—they are referred to in verse 6 of our lesson in a quotation from Isaiah. Let us hear two quotations from the prophets concerning them, "This people draw near Me with their mouth and with their lips do honor Me, but have removed their heart far from Me, and their fear toward Me is taught by the precept of men." "They come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them, for with their mouth they shew much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness" (Isa. xxix. 13; Ezek. xxxiii. 31). In addition to what our Lord said about them in this lesson He said elsewhere, "All their works they do for to be seen of men." "Ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within are full of extortion and excess." "Ye outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within are full of hypocrisy and iniquity" (Matt. xxiii. 5, 23-28). These are the men who, in the lesson for today, find fault with Christ and His disciples for not practicing the many outward washings of their religion. There are multitudes of such formalists still who are very religious, but it is all outward, and they know not the true God, who searcheth hearts (1 Sam. xvi. 7; 1 Chron. xxviii. 9; Jer. xvii. 10; Rev. ii. 23). In 11 Tim. iii. 1-5, we read that the end of this age will be characterized by a form of godliness without any power, and truly it is already visible enough and tending to a greater manifestation of the same.

Inasmuch as it was foretold that it would be so, we are not surprised at it, and rejoice that He cannot fail nor be discouraged (Isa. xlii. 4), but the question may well search us, Am I real in my life, living before God rather than men and studying to shew myself approved unto God (11 Tim. ii. 15; 11 Cor. v. 9). Our Lord desires a holy people, a people meet for His use (1 Pet. i. 15, 16; 11 Tim. ii. 21), but the cleansing must be inward, by His spirit and His word applying the blood (Ps. li. 10; Rom. xii. 2; John xvii. 17; Eph. v. 25, 26). This matter of defilement by unwashed hands is briefly and decidedly disposed of by our Lord in these words, "To eat with unwashed hands defileth not a man" (Matt. xv. 20). In Matt. xv. 11, and verse 15 of our lesson we learn that what cometh out of the mouth, not that which goeth into the mouth, defileth a person, for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh, and out of the evil heart proceedeth all evil deeds and words (vs. 20-23; Matt. xii. 34).

No mere outward religion is of any eternal value, but may be of some benefit as far as this present world is concerned. The great cry of today about the uplift of the race, the Christianizing of nations, making an end of war, etc., is all from the proud, foolish heart of man, without any reference to the great Prince of Peace, who alone can bring peace. All mere human effort as well as all people who are not God's planting must be rooted up, overthrown, broken to pieces, and He who created all things by His word shall bring peace on earth by His word. He will speak peace, His word will do it, as it will also slay the wicked (Ps. lxxxv. 8; xlvii. 9; Isa. xl. 4). Only by His word and His spirit revealing Himself can He give peace to any individual, but to any one thus receiving Him He becomes peace in deed, life indeed, eternal redemption.

THE LESSON QUIZ.

Clean and Unclean. Mark vii:1-23.

Golden Text—For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost. Rom. xiv:17.

(1) Verse 1—Why did these Pharisees and scribes come from Jerusalem to interview Jesus?

(2) Why had the hierarchy at Jerusalem become actively hostile to Jesus?

(3.) Verses 2-4—What is the point of Jesus' objection to the custom of the Jews concerning the ceremonial washing of hands and utensils?

(4.) To wash our hands when they are soiled is but cleanly, but what is the use of washing hands when they are already clean, and what sense is there in any ceremonial tradition which so requires?

(5.) What ceremonies or traditions are there observed today by Christian people that you regard as worthless?

(6.) What evil effects are brought about by useless forms or ceremonies?

(7.) Verses 5-6—Why did not the disciples of Jesus observe "the traditions of the elders?"

(8.) How much value do you give to a ceremonial religion when the hearts of the devotees are not true to God?

(9.) Of how much service as worship are spoken prayers and good hymns well sung if the hearts of the worshippers are not loyal to God?

(10.) What is a hypocrite in this age? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(11.) Verses 7-8—What is the sole test of the value of any ceremony or religious custom?

(12.) If a man puts his trust in any ceremony or church or other custom as a saving ordinance is it possible for him, or not, and why, at the same time to worship the true God?

(13.) Verse 9—It is a respectable modern custom to attend church. Would you say, or not, and why, that a person who keeps up this custom in place of giving himself to God "rejects the commandment of God?"

(14.) Verses 10-13—Is there any law and if so what law which would justify a man for the non-support of his aged father or mother? Give your reasons.

(15.) What do you understand by this word "Corban," which seems to stand for some oath, that would release a son from the requirement of God's law to care for his parents?

(16.) Verses 14-15—What is moral defilement, and how is it produced?

(17.) Verse 16—What are spiritual "ears," and how may they be secured?

(18.) Verses 17-19—What is the difference between moral and physical defilement?

(19.) Verses 20-23—What is the meaning of each of the sins which Jesus here mentions?

(20.) What is the moral difference between a man that has these sins in his heart and does not outwardly show them and one who also manifests them outwardly?

Mission to the Gentiles. Mark vii:24-30; Matt. viii:5-13.

The Danger After Grip

lies often in a run-down system. Weakness, nervousness, lack of appetite, energy and ambition, with disordered liver and kidneys often follow an attack of this wretched disease. The greatest need then is Electric Bitters, the glorious tonic, blood purifier and regulator of stomach, liver and kidneys. Thousands have proved that they wonderfully strengthen the nerves, build up the system and restore to health and good spirits after an attack of Grip. If suffering, try them. Only 50 cents. Sold and perfect satisfaction guaranteed by The Andrews Drug Co., Seymour, Ind.

Medical Society.

Drs. L. B. Hill, G. G. Graessle and C. E. Gillispie returned Thursday evening from Indianapolis where they attended the meeting of the State Medical Society. They report a good meeting. Dr. Hill is president of the Medical Society of the Fourth District.

Puts End To Bad Habit.

Things never look bright to one with "the blues." Ten to one the trouble is a sluggish liver, filling the system with bilious poison, that Dr. King's New Life Pills would expel. Try them. Let the joy of better feelings end "the blues." Best for stomach, liver and kidneys. 25 cents at The Andrews Drug Co., Seymour, Ind.

HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

When the blood becomes infected with any unhealthy humor the effect is shown by some definitely marked disorder like Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, etc. Humors get into the blood usually because of an inactive condition of the system. Those members whose duty it is to expel all refuse matter do not properly perform their work, and an unhealthy accumulation is absorbed into the blood. Then instead of performing its natural function of nourishing the skin the circulation irritates and inflames it because of its impure condition. A thorough cleansing of the blood is the only certain cure for any skin disease; external applications can only give temporary relief. S. S. S. goes into the circulation and drives all humors from the blood, and in this way makes a permanent and complete cure in every form of skin trouble. S. S. S. supplies the blood with the nutritive qualities necessary to sustain the skin and preserve its natural texture and perfect appearance. S. S. S. cures Salt Rheum, and all other skin eruptions of the face and medical advice free.

CHAPTER XII.

The Same Old Story.

I ran across the lawn to the beach. I didn't want the runabout. I wanted to be away from everybody and everything and try to think. I felt terribly helpless. The roar of the waves smashing against the rocks brought me peace. Clouds were scurrying northward before a brisk wind, and the sun came bulging through.

I was nearly to the steps which led down from the rocks above to the sand before I realized that Hap was with me; he was panting, his face red from exertion.

"How you do run!" he complained. "You'd make Diana go hide her head in a sack. Wait for a fellow, won't you?"

I clattered down the steps and collapsed on the lower one. I couldn't speak, for I was all out of wind myself. We both sat looking out over the water, breathing hard.

"Do you believe that awful thing?" I managed to ask at last.

I wasn't in the least prepared for what happened. He seized me in his arms, and for the first time in my life a man's lips were pressed against my own.

"That's what I believe," he said, "and that—and that!"

In the first shock of my surprise I let his lips rest against mine for a moment, then I gasped and put out my two hands and pushed. It was as if I were pushing against the Chinese Wall. I forgot to remember that he was the best tackle Harvard ever had. He was smiling at me, and his lips threatened again; two tears brimmed from my eyes and splashed over.

"You poor little girl!" he exclaimed. "I frightened you. Please don't cry."

"How dare you?" I sobbed.

"Why, I forgot to tell you," he tried to kiss me again, but I pressed my face against his shoulder in desperation. "I love you. Put your arms around my neck, dear; there's not a soul in sight. Now whisper something to me—darling!"

I brought my head up suddenly. Here I was allowing Hap to hold me in his arms on an open beach. I looked up, and down, and out toward the water; no, there was not a soul in sight. The boats were deserted, the rocks behind hid us completely from the house. I met his eyes, and there was that look in them I had never been able to take care of. I had to see it, while his lips were dangerously near and his arms held me close against his heart. I fell to trembling ridiculously.

"Oh!"

"Darling!"

He kissed my hair, my eyes, my lips; dropped bits of passionate sentences punctuated with kisses. I caught my breath in ecstasy, and my hands reached up and encircled his neck.

There are only a few words to say, after all, words that have been said over and over again—nothing new—but they are quite adequate. I had never admitted even to myself that I loved him; I had pushed it back and trampled it down, and refused to listen when my heart threatened to speak. I realized that I must not listen now; that I was not strong enough to listen; that there was Natalie's awful accusation; that I was just a servant in the house; that his money was a gulf between us, his social position, what his mother expected of his future; a gulf so wide across that it would take a great deal of unselfish love and affection on the part of Mrs. Hazard to bridge it.

I unlaced my fingers and struggled free of his arms. His mother never intended anything like this.

"Stop! Please stop!" I pleaded. The tears ran down my cheeks, and I'm a fright when I cry. "I can't listen; I must not!"

I started to go back up the steps. He caught my hand and held it pressed tightly in both his own; and he was the strongest. I only reached the step above, and sat down again.

"Louie, this is the first thing I've been serious about in my life," he said earnestly. "Do you believe me, dear? Don't you see I'm serious? I wouldn't kiss you lightly." This time he kissed the tips of my fingers with his own. "I didn't rush you, dear, because I—I was afraid! I've always done that, rushed, but it's because I was never serious."

He smiled up at me and crushed my hand against his cheek. I laughed to keep from crying, but the silly tears would keep coming. I was crying because he was serious. I had never seen him serious before.

"I love you!" he whispered. "I loved you from the moment I saw you. I knew you were my fate, or whatever it is you are, my sweetheart. What is that? 'The bolt of Cupid fell?' I've forgotten. I never could remember Shakespeare, but it's beautiful, and I think it's what I mean, if I could only tell you. Do you remember how my mother said: 'This is Miss Codman!' You smiled at me and I grinned back at you. I wouldn't have missed that luncheon for all the Peabodys in the world. I was hard hit, sweetheart. We talked baseball when I wanted to tell you how beautiful your eyes were, and how I loved the light on your hair, the curve of your lips when you smiled—Louie, I read that, but it's what I mean. I've been loving you every blessed minute since. I've almost told you a thousand times. Haven't you guessed it?"

I brushed aside the forelock over his eyes—how weak women are!—and just that touch upon his forehead was my undoing. I leaned forward to surrender my lips to him, to kiss the fingers that held mine, when suddenly I remembered I must not. Frantically I tried to get my hands away from him.

"Let me go. Hap," I pleaded. "Let me go! Let me go! And don't, if you love me, ever speak of these things again."

He twisted around upon his knees. "Look at me, dear! I'm afraid I don't understand. Why are you not to listen?"

"That awful accusation—" I began. I could not go on.

"Oh, piffle!"

"How do you know it isn't true?" I cried brokenly. "I was there, the ruby is missing—how do you know it isn't true?"

"How do I know the skies will not fall, my sweetheart? Because they won't. That's how I know Natalie's accusation isn't true—because it isn't." He smiled at me, wonderfully pleased with his silly argument.

"Your mother—" I reminded him tragically.

"You think she would object?"

"I think she would at least be terribly disappointed."

He compelled me to meet his eyes. His were steady, and there was a sweetness in the expression about his mouth that played havoc with me.

"Perhaps you don't know it, my dear little girl," he said, "but there's nobody in this world can keep me from marrying you."

I got up to go. I had to dress for dinner; so had he. We were both crazy and Mrs. Hazard was so particular about her dinner hour. He looked at his watch.

"We have fifteen minutes yet," he persuaded. "Fifteen dear, precious minutes. I haven't told you all. I haven't said—"

I tried to go.

"It takes Celle ten minutes to hook me into my gown," I told him desperately, "and she'll shriek if I only give her five minutes for my hair; then five minutes to get to my room and five minutes—"

"Can't you coax Celle down to three minutes for your gown, and two minutes for your hair, and—come down a step lower, please, or our heads will be above the wall when I kiss you."

"You are not to kiss me again!" I gasped.

I gave my hand a pull; so did he.

"Come down a step, darling. I'll not get another kiss for an hour."

"You'll never get another," I interrupted. I tried to believe that.

"For an hour," he pursued stubbornly. "And you haven't told me the one thing in all the world I want to hear. There's a good girl!"

He was the strongest; I went down the next step to preserve my balance. There was no use struggling against a kiss; he was the best tackle Harvard ever had.

Almost a Miracle.

One of the most startling changes ever seen in any man, according to W. B. Holsclaw, Clarendon, Tex., was effected years ago in his brother. "He had such a dreadful cough," he writes, "that all our family thought he was going into consumption, but he began to use Dr. King's New Discovery and was completely cured by ten bottles. Now he is sound and well and weighs 218 pounds. For many years our family has used this wonderful remedy for Coughs and Colds with excellent results." It's quick, safe, reliable and guaranteed. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottle free at The Andrews Drug Co., Seymour, Ind. Advertisement.
